DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 4-26-06 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 50, 60 and 59 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The negative limitation: "the beams do not touch one another regardless of the distance to the target surface" is not found in the originally filed specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 50, 53-58 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bramwell et al in view of Bautista and Welte.

Bramwell et al discloses a method of positioning a spray gun at a desired distance from a target surface. A pair of spots are illuminated by first and second laser light beams emitted from spaced apart locations on a spray guns angled and offset sufficiently such that the beams do not touch one another regardless of the distance to the target surface (col 2, lines 50-68; col 3, lines 1-27). The two spots form an alignment pattern, and there is caused delivery of coating material to the target surface by keeping the spots in a predetermined alignment pattern.

There is not disclosed:

that the first and second beams are angled to approach one other; and,
that the light beams are visible light.

Welte discloses positioning light beams as visible light (col 3, lines 55-67).

It would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art to include visible light beams because Welte discloses errors in positioning (col 1, lines 17-30) and the primary reference is also concerned with positioning error.

Bautista discloses first and second beams are angled to approach one () for target placement.

It would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art to further include first and second beams angled to approach one because Bautista teaches plane orientation important in target recognition (col 1, lines 40-45).

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed 4-26-06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Bramwell et al teaches that the relationship between the spots is relevant (col 4, lines 18-19).
